

PROPER USE AND CARE OF YOUR NEW BEDDING SYSTEM BY ROYAL SLEEPER

Carrying the mattress flat on its side will reduce the risk of damaging the mattress and its components during transportation. If handles are provided, use for positioning and rotating the mattress only. Be sure not to use the handles to lift the mattress. They are not designed for heavy lifting.

Use the bedding system for rest and relaxation, not for playing. Do not let anybody stand or jump on the bedding system, as it is not designed for this kind of stress.

Do not smoke in bed. No matter if your bedding system is flammable or not, cigarette buds and fire may damage your bedding system, therefore voiding your warranty.

Use proper sheets, as improperly sized sheets may bend your mattress and damage its components.

Regularly rotating your mattress is strongly advised unless indicated otherwise. Rotating your mattress helps evening out the wear and prolonging the life of your sleep system.

Protect your bedding system against hazards.

Keeping your bedding system clean lowers the risk of damage caused by stains or liquids. Use a mattress pad and wash it frequently with your bed linens. Mattress pads absorb perspiration and stains, keeping your mattress fresh.

Properly clean your bedding system.

To keep your bedding system free of skin debris, regularly vacuum the surface of the mattress. Cleaning fluids and other liquids may damage the material used in your bedding system, so detergents, soaps and other cleaners are not recommended. Water or other liquids can penetrate your mattress, damaging the materials and causing them to shrink.

Possible product deviations.

All of our bedding systems are made with great care and attention to detail, employing both mechanical means and individual hands-on workmanship. Due to the nature of hand-crafted products, some bedding systems may vary in size by 1-2 %, or may have, upon close examination, the smallest of imperfections.